

Health and Safety

The health and safety of our campers and staff is our number one priority and depends upon all individuals complying with the following guidelines. Please review this guide and reach out to us with any questions.

Daily Camper Evaluation

Guardians should screen campers daily for symptoms of COVID-19. Campers must stay home if: (1) They have any symptoms of COVID-19 (cough, difficulty breathing, fever, chills, muscle pain, sore throat, new loss of taste or smell, diarrhea) or symptoms of cold/flu, or (2) They are awaiting results of a COVID-19 test. If symptoms are not the result of COVID-19, campers may return to Camp after they have recovered from illness and been symptom-free without medicine for 24 hours.

COVID-19 Vaccination

All first-time campers must provide proof that they are fully vaccinated in order to attend in-person camps. Campers who need a reasonable accommodation for medical reasons or due to a sincerely held religious belief will require twice-weekly proof of a negative COVID-19 test, which must be presented along with a photo ID or a parent or legal guardian to confirm their identity.

Masks

Masks are optional for staff, campers, and audience members. Campers should bring at least one face mask with them each day in case it is needed. STC reserves the right to require mask wearing of its staff and campers and will promptly communicate changes in policy.

Handwashing

Campers are required to either wash or sanitize their hands immediately on arrival to Camp and immediately after returning from a break. Everyone will be encouraged to wash or sanitize their hands during the day.

Symptom Onset & Exposure Protocol

Campers who become ill during Camp will immediately be separated from others until their guardian arrives to pick them up or other appropriate arrangements are made by their guardian.

In the case of confirmed COVID-19, close contacts will be notified of the exposure. If a camper has been exposed to someone with COVID-19 it is okay for them to attend Camp if: (1) No symptoms are present, (2) No medication is being taken for any symptoms, (3) They have a negative COVID-19 test prior to entering an STC space, and (4) They wear a face mask for the remainder of the session (or ten days after the exposure). If a camper has a member of their household test positive for COVID-19 and they have continued exposure, they may come to Camp but must take daily antigen tests for seven days.
